DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: "27" is not in the Figures. Also, there is a lead line with no number (near 23) in Figure 1.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: in paragraph 00013, "45" has already been disclosed as the second end.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3676

4. Claims 1-3, and 5-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fitzgibbons (4,709,726).

Fitzgibbons discloses an hydraulic coupling member comprising a seal retainer 102 having a first metal pressure energized seal 124 forming a seal between the retainer and a probe 16, and a second metal pressure energized seal 126 forming a seal between the retainer and a shoulder (of 80). The first seal is a lip seal (leg of 124 is a lip). The second seal is a concave seal. Regarding claim 5, requiring the lip seal to be machined from the body of a carrier is considered a process limitation in a product claim and is given little patentable weight.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 4 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fitzgibbons.

As seen in Figure 4, for example, the leg of ring seal 124 extends past surface 104. Thus, the lip seal is slightly displaced when the probe is inserted. Also, seal 126 is compressed (displaced) when installed in sealing condition. However, Fitzgibbons does not disclose that the displacement is about 0.001 inches. This is considered a design choice. It is not considered inventive to discover the workable or optimum ranges by routine experimentation. See In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233, 235 (CCPA 1955). Therefore, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the displacement about 0.001 in. as a matter of choice in design.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
